INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY
EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/US99/27316

SECTION V

1). Relevant prior art is represented by:

D1: WO 98 39335 A (PROCTER & GAMBLE) 11 September 1998 (1998-09-11)

D2: WO 98 39098 A (THE UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS) 11 September 1998
(1998-09-11)

2). The claimed process is not novel since it is already disclosed in D1 (see claims and specific examples, see also page 10 of D1).

Claim 11 is not novel in view of D1 (see examples 11, 13). Novelty is also not acknowledged vis-à-vis D2 (see page 38, first formula on last line in combination with " $(CH_2)_n-C(O)OH$ " on page 39) because there is an overlap between the teachings of D2 and D1 with the content of the current claim 11.

In the absence of any new technical element, novelty is not acknowledged.

Claim 12 is novel vis-à-vis D1 and D2 since the diethyl derivative is not disclosed in D1 or D2.

3). The problem underlying the current application appears to be the provision of further metal catalysts used as bleaching agents (see page 7, line 5).

D1 represents the structurally closest prior art and discloses identical compounds having the same qualitative activity (see page 15, last line).

Since D1 is regarded as novelty-destroying (see example 13), the current application cannot be considered as inventive.

Claim 12 represents a selection over D1 and in the absence of any surprising effect the compound of claim 12 cannot be regarded as inventive.

4). There is no objection in respect of the industrial applicability.

SECTION VIII

International application No. PCT/US99/27316

- 1). The absence of reasons for the disclaimers of claims 1-11 renders the wording of these claims unclear.
